

THE EASTER SUNDAY

Strike of Gold Ore of Phenomenal Richness.

Probably Excels Any Ore in Value Ever Uncovered in This District.

While miners were at work yesterday morning a phenomenal deposit of gold ore was uncovered in the main shaft of the Easter Sunday mine. Geo. Hanniger brought a piece of the ore into town this morning weighing some ten pounds which is the most valuable and beautiful gold ore specimen ever shown in Bisbee.

The Easter Sunday is located some four miles east of Bisbee and has been worked for about one year, but only on a small scale. Now, that this marvelous deposit of gold has been discovered work will be pushed in earnest. Foul air in the main shaft caused the running of an air shaft, on which work is now progressing.

The ore carries both gold and silver but not enough of the latter matter to pay. From a cart load of ore shipped to the smelter at Deming last week gives returns of 4.55 ounces of gold, but the present rich strike will swell these figures to an alarming degree.

The specimen brought into town by Mr. Hanniger was encountered at a depth of some one hundred feet, and indications are good that a larger deposit abounds. The main vein has not been struck as yet. An assay of the specimen has not yet been made, but it will run high into the thousands.

In the opinion of one of our leading mining experts, the Easter Sunday is a valuable mine, and before long will be one of the best producers in Arizona.

The owners of this bonanza are all residents of Bisbee and are thoroughly identified with the mining development of Southeastern Arizona.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

The train was on time yesterday.

Geo. K. Hall, of St. Louis, is staying at the Bessemer.

H. Whaley, of Phoenix, is in the city attending to matters of business.

M. M. Sugich was on the outgoing passenger today bound to Mexico.

E. S. Bass arrived on the afternoon flyer from Jerome and is registered at the Norton.

John Williams, the stone mason, is now in El Paso, where he is having a real enjoyable time.

J. Kelly, the clerk at the Copper Queen store, will leave for San Diego shortly whether he goes for a vacation.

M. J. Nixon of Kansas City, a traveling man, having completed his business here departed today for the coast.

J. S. Sugich and wife left for Tucson today. Mr. Sugich is a well known and prosperous storekeeper of that city.

The Bisbee Independent Order of Foresters will meet at the Opera House hall this (Thursday) evening at 8 o'clock.

The Presbyterian Ladies' Aid Society will meet Wednesday at 2 o'clock p. m. at the residence of Mrs. Pritchard.

Uncle Billy Plaster, the genial old cattle man, has returned to his ranch after spending a real good time with the boys.

The travel between here and the Cananea is improving, and the outgoing stage yesterday was well filled with passengers.

R. P. Oliver is a Denver citizen who was among the passengers on the incoming train yesterday. He is a guest at the Hotel Bessemer.

Alejandro Garcia, the well known custom broker from La Morita, came up yesterday and attended to business in the town and vicinity.

J. B. Angius is making great improvements at his residence. Among other work which he is accomplishing is a substantial stone wall.

William Doherty, the well known old time miner and resident of Bisbee, has returned from a visit to San Francisco, where he has been for his health.

Joe Smiles, the genial Star meat man of Omaha, who has been selling his goods in Bisbee, left today to continue his trip. He goes to Tucson from here.

C. L. Arguelles, the custom house agent of the R. G. S. M. & P. railway, left this morning for El Paso. He has been in town for several days on business connected with his road.

Fred W. Townsend, of San Francisco, a clarinet player, came in yesterday and put up at the Norton. He discoursed sweet music at the Free Coinage last night to an attentive crowd.

P. W. K. Robertson left for the city of Mexico by today's passenger. Mr. Robertson is the young mining engineer who has been working at the smelter here for the purpose of gaining practical experience. He is from Montreal.

Alfred Paul the popular Bisbee tailor, met with quite a serious accident yesterday. While going into his shop a man passing him jokingly grasped his wrist and twisted his arm. The result was that a bone in the wrist was broken and Mr. Paul was obliged to consult a physician who set the bone. The injured arm will be bandaged up for some time.

WANTED—A position as housekeeper by a competent lady. Call at the Norton House, room 5.

Lyle F. Durley has come in from Fairbank where he has been visiting his brother-in-law at the Herriek ranch.

Mrs. M. Letson, of the Queen hotel, will leave in a few days on an extended trip. During her absence she will visit her old home in Ireland, and will be gone six months.

Otto Swanson, foreman in the smelter at La Cananea, will leave in the morning for the scene of his labors. Mr. Swanson came up from the mine to spend the Fourth, and had great times, so he says.

Mrs. B. F. Peters left today on the train for Phoenix, taking with her grand sons. Mr. C. E. Warren's two little boys, who will stay with her. Mr. Warren accompanied his mother as far as Tucson.

Mr. and Mrs. I. C. E. Adams are contemplating a trip across the continent to visit their old home on the Tom Bigbee river, Alabama. Their little boy has had a long and severe spell of sickness, and requires a change to accomplish his restoration to sound health again.

FASHION'S FANCIES.

Bright Colors Are Favored in Millinery—Popular Notions in Hosiery.

No woman need think that she cannot have a handkerchief waist simply because some handkerchiefs cost five dollars apiece and entire waists $20. There are others, and pretty waists, too, that sell in some of the best department stores for $5.75, says the New York Times.

The small girl is to be as brilliant as a hummingbird this season. She is wearing all kinds of bright sashes in flowered and bright-colored ribbons, and red is one of the colors most often seen in her hats just now. Red seems to be popular anyway, and cherries and currants vie with red poppies. A flower hat entirely of poppies, and a big hat at that, is a brilliant affair, and a black velvet bow accentuates its brilliance.

The hats vary from those with rather stiff rims and high crowns to low flats, and these latter frequently have, after the hat is trimmed, a covering of tulle put over, enveloping them like a veil. Shaded layers of chiffon, one overlapping the other cover the rims of spring and summer hats as they have those of the winter. The crowns are of the chiffon. Green or white grapes are the one form of decoration all milliners of all degrees seem to agree upon this year. They are to be seen everywhere, a bad prospect for the staying qualities usually.

There are many of the chiffon and other thin material roses, and the woman who makes her bonnets at home will find them a boon, for they are pretty and effective. They come at 50 cents, and sometimes less, and from that up to two or three dollars, and are almost as big as cabbages.

All sorts of openwork stockings are to be seen in all patterns and colors. Many of the stockings are figured or embroidered just over the instep where the work will show with low shoes. There are stripes that run lengthwise and others that run the other way, and there are polka dots of course, and some figures, but mostly confined to the instep. One pretty style of stocking has stripes separated by lace stitches, and on alternate stripes is the effect of feather stitching one in one color and one in another. Pretty underwear which will delight people inclined to plumpness, who can afford to wear it, is the silk jersey trimmed with silk lace. It comes in sets, the three undergarments, but the pieces can be bought separately. They are several dollars each. The underwaists, which gather in at the waist and do not basque below, are from $2.50 up. The chemise is one of the prettiest of the garments when embroidered with the French bow knots.

PUNGENT PARAGRAPHS.

"Sure, Pat, and why are ye wearin' yer coat buttoned up loike that on a warm day loike this?" "Faith, yer reverence, to hoide the shirt Oi haven't got on."—Punch.

Mrs. Gallagher—"An' phwat'll Oi do at all, Moike? This machine only goes up to 15 shone, an' Oi'm if shone if Oi'm an ounce." Gallagher—"Get on twice, Bridget, an' add up th' totals."—Glasgow Evening Times.

A Falling Out—"And why did you leave your last place?" "Cook an' me had a fallin' out, mem." "I don't see why you should leave for a little thing like that." "But we fell out o' th' third-story window, mem."—Cleveland Plain-Dealer.

"What will I get here for lunch?" asked the man at the restaurant counter. "There's the bill of fare," answered the man in the white coat. "You can order what you want. I'm not saying what you will get."—Indianapolis News.

"Can you tell me which mushrooms are poisonous and which are not?" asked the young woman. "I can," answered the young man who never admits he doesn't know. "How?" "By reading the papers next morning."—Washington Star.

Ancient Jeweled Vest Buttons.
A recent find for men in New York is a set of jeweled buttons for the evening waistcoat. The buttons are of plain gold, or white enamel, set with diamonds, pearls or amethysts. A set of buttons can cost anything one likes to pay, from $5 to $500.

THE MORENCI FIRE.

A Slag Pot Caused the Conflagration.

The Men Fought the Flames Gallantly, but the Means to Stay Them Were Inadequate.

The fire at Morenci which destroyed the concentrators, was caused by a slag pot from which the molten slag was shot into the air and on to the wooden steps of the feed floor. At the time a good many of the men were at dinner, and that enabled quite a force to be turned out to fight the flames.

The wind, however, was blowing very hard, and this, of course, carried the flames through the old concentrators.

The men collected from all parts, but as the water supply was low they could make but little impression on the flames.

The conflagration did not last long—hardly an hour. The office of the company was fortunately saved.

The smelter will most probably be rebuilt on the river.

TATTOOED WITH PORTRAITS.

Soldiers Have Portraits of Their Sweethearts Priced Into Their Backs.

The American soldiers leaving San Francisco for the Philippines are responsible for an entirely new lover's idea, says an exchange of that city. They have the portraits of their sweethearts skillfully tattooed upon their backs. "Prof." Jake Londella is the man who makes a living by tattooing the faces of infatuated folks upon each other's backs. Londella's business brings him in contact with men, women and children. Women are his best customers. Says he, regarding his peculiar mission:

"During the war I tattooed many a soldier's photo upon his sweetheart's arm, and the soldier often had her picture or name written by herself reproduced upon his breast. Many British soldiers have had the portraits of their wives or sweethearts tattooed on the back before going to South Africa. It is a fad with the officers especially. I know one who has the portraits of two girls tattooed upon his breast with their names beneath them."

"You would be surprised to know how many women bare their necks and arms for the needles. It is becoming a fad here just as it did in London years ago."

"Yes, a woman is usually scared when she sees the instrument and ink, but she gives me less trouble than a man when she discovers that tattooing does not hurt much after all. Last week I spent a half day working on the arm of a bride-to-be. Years ago she had a man's name placed there. I had to obliterate it by filling in with a flower design. She said it would never do for the groom to know about the other man."

"Here is a list of the designs I tattooed upon the limbs not long ago of Mrs. Frank Caldwell, the actress: Snake, horses, peacock, butterflies, flowers, anchor, parrots, a cockatoo, checkered stockings, necklace, eagles, stars, flag, hearts, shields, leaves and fan."

Left Four Wills.

A Boston woman who paid $50,000 for a casket in which to be buried has left four wills. That she managed to get through life without being suspected, says the Chicago Times-Herald, but serves to show once more how cunning the insane often manage to be.

ALIAS SUMMONS.

In the District Court, First Judicial District, of the Territory of Arizona, in and for the county of Cochise.

Rebecca N. Hughes, plaintiff, vs. Henry P. Hughes, defendant.

Action brought in the District Court of the First Judicial District of the Territory of Arizona, in and for the county of Cochise, and the complaint filed in said court, in the office of the Clerk of said District Court.

The Territory of Arizona sends greeting to Henry P. Hughes. You are hereby required to appear in an action brought against you by the above named plaintiff in the District Court of the First Judicial District of the Territory of Arizona, in and for the county of Cochise, and to answer the complaint filed therein, within ten days (exclusive of the day of service) after the service on you of this summons, (if served within this county; or if served out of this county but within the county, within twenty days; otherwise within thirty days), or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint.

The said action is brought to obtain a decree of divorce from the bonds of matrimony, the custody of the three minor children and for costs of this action.
